Two Defeats In U. N. Sustained By Soviet Today

Plenary Session Vote Overwhelmingly Against Russia On Two Issues

VOTE 34-8 ON FIRST PROPOSAL

By PIERRE J. NUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Soviets sustained two overwhelming defeats today at a plenary session of the United Nations General Assembly.

The 58-nation body voted 34-8 to approve a recommendation allowing the secretary-general of the organization of American states to sit in as an observer at Assembly meetings. There were two abstentions.

The organization is the Pan-American group set up by the Bogota Conference. Russia opposed inviting the secretary-general on the grounds that there was no provision for such a move in the charter.

Another setback
On a second issue, that of endorsing Jan Papanek, the anti-Communist Czechoslovak delegate who was recalled by Prague, the Russians again suffered a setback.

The assembly's administrative committee recommended approval of Papanek, in spite of the fact that the Prague regime has denounced him as a traitor and demanded his extradition.

After a lively debate, the assembly voted 30 to 6 in favor of Papanek, with 13 abstentions.

Poland's Oscar Lange called on the delegates to void the Czech statement's appointment on the grounds that he carried on political activity hostile to the Czech government.

Lange said that Papanek no longer represented the geographical area which appointed him.

He was backed by the Byelo-Rus (Continued on Page Two)

Western Powers Stand On Atomic Energy To Get U. N. Support

By PIERRE J. NUSS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Oct. 16.—Overwhelming United Nations support was forecast today for the western power stand on atomic energy against which Russia has fought bitterly.

The west's position—as approved by a subcommittee of the political and security committee—calls for a transfer of atomic negotiations from the suspended Atomic Energy commission to private talks by the Big Five and Canada.

The subcommittee plan will be presented to the 58-nation political committee today.

Russia is expected to offer strong opposition to this move, and call for a resumption of the AEC.

President Due In Washington This Afternoon

Will Have Brief Respite In Campaign—Flies To Florida Monday

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, Oct. 16.—President Truman drew his six-day political campaign through the Ohio valley and Great Lakes states to a close today and headed back to Washington for a 36-hour pause between campaign tours.

The chief executive is due back in Washington at 4 o'clock this afternoon. He will leave again at 8:30 a. m. Monday for Miami, this time using the 300-miles-an-hour presidential plane. Independence.

Mr. Truman will address the American Legion convention in the south Florida metropolis Monday afternoon.

Pausing in Miami only part of the day, the president will then board his plane and fly to Raleigh, N. C., where he will spend the night.

Will Fly To Pittsburgh
Tuesday, the president will make two addresses in Raleigh, flying into Washington late in the afternoon.

The president will then remain in Washington until Saturday when he will fly to Pittsburgh for (Continued on Page Two)

Truman Orders Military Reserve Units Organized

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—President Truman today ordered Secretary of Defense Forrestal "to proceed without delay" to organize all military reserve units required for the national security and to establish vigorous and progressive reserve training programs.

The president took the step as his train neared Washington. He signed an executive order last night putting the reserve organization move into effect.

The executive order and a presidential statement were given to the press this morning at Clarkburg, W. Va., without comment or explanation.

Forrestal was ordered to report to the president within 60 days on the results of the new move to invigorate the reserve components of the armed forces.

Spanish War Vet Foils Bank Robbery

WILKINSBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—(INS)—A Spanish-American war veteran took bows and aured a few bruises today after foiling an attempted robbery at the First National bank in Wilkesburg.

Benjamin Hellings, 73, pinioned a man identified as Benjamin Husick, 37, of Squirrel Hill after he saw the latter reach under the grating of a teller's window and grab a $780 payroll.

Husick was charged with attempted larceny, and questioned by the FBI.

Change Date On Examination Of Drafttees Here

Men From Lawrence County Will Not Go To Pittsburgh On Monday

CALL DOUBLED AT LATER DATE

Due to the experiences from earlier examinations, when it was found that the men being summoned for examination and induction into the armed forces in the peace-time selective service drafts failed to produce the quota set, the Lawrence county draft boards have had the number called up at this time doubled.

The date of examination has been also changed, due to the fact that the examining office has gotten a little behind in their schedule.

The two boards had originally been asked to send their men to Pittsburgh for examination and induction on October 18. This has been changed to a later date, however. County Board 86 will send their 24 men called up, on Wednesday, October 20, while City Board Two will send their men on Thursday, October 21.

Those called up have been notified by mail of the change, draft board officials state.

Marshall Makes Visit To Greece

Will receive First Hand Account Of Greek Civil War While There

PARIS, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall left Paris by plane today for Athens, where he will receive a first-hand account of the Greek civil war.

Marshall will confer with Henry F. Grady, ambassador to Greece, and Maj. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. military adviser to the Greek army.

They will supply Marshall with information which he will use in connection with the forthcoming UN discussion of the Greek question.

A U. S. delegation spokesman said the exact date of the secretary's departure is being kept secret for security reasons.

Bethlehem Steel Buys Coal Mining Property

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 16.—(INS)—The Bethlehem Steel corporation today announced purchase of the vast Pennsylvania Coal mining properties of the J. H. Weaver Co., of Philadelphia.

Purchase price was said to be more than $15,000,000.

The deal reportedly is one of the largest in the annals of the coal industry.

Wife Or Doctor Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 16.—(INS)—Mrs. Estel Stratton, 73, of Delaware, O., collapsed and died just before stepping into her automobile in front of an Indianapolis hotel today.

Her husband, Dr. Francis M. Stratton, pronounced her dead. The couple had been on a vacation tour and was returning home.

Houdini Spirit Fails To Return

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 16.—(INS)—The spirit of Harry Houdini, famed magician who died in 1926, is still out of this world today. An attempt of the New England Society of Magicians to bring it back failed.

In their annual seance held to try to contact the master of legerdemain, the 13 members of the society's mystic circle placed his favorite handkerchiefs on the table. The tests they performed were secret.

They were hopeful that if the handkerchiefs opened, it would be proof the tests were a success.

But the handkerchiefs remained closed.

Governor Dewey Makes Answer To Cordell Hull

Replies To Former Secretary Of State—Campaigning In Indiana Today

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

EN ROUTE WITH GOV. DEWEY, Oct. 16.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey partly answered Cordell Hull's attack on his foreign policy claims and headed for Indiana today.

The Republican presidential candidate scheduled a full-dress stop in Rensselaer, Ind., for a "harmony" meeting with House Majority Leader Charles A. McNichols, the man who was by-passed as Dewey's running mate.

Speeches At St. Paul
But Dewey kept the foreign policy issue alive at St. Paul, Minn., in a nationally broadcast speech last night, he replied to former Secretary of State Hull's charge that he had made "extraneous claims" in taking credit for the bipartisan foreign policy.

Apparently referring to how in 1944 he kept the secret that America had broken Japan's top-secret code, Dewey told his St. Paul audience:

"Four years ago the fateful choice fell to me to decide whether to expose to the American people some or any of the blunders and of the tragedies committed by our then national administration in the course of the presidential campaign.

Made The Decision
"I made the decision and it was all my own—that it was more important that we preserve the unity (Continued on Page Two)

INDUCT NEW PRESIDENT

AMHERST, Mass., Oct. 16.—(INS)—Dr. Ralph A. Van Meter, a native of Ohio, was formally inducted today as the 13th president of the University of Massachusetts.

The charter and seal of the university were bestowed on the 54-year-old educator by Joseph V. Barrett, chairman of the board of trustees.

Dr. Van Meter was born in Columbus Grove, Ohio. He was graduated from Ohio State University in 1917 and served overseas in France as a first sergeant in World War I.

Miss Grace E. Prince, daughter of Mrs. Edith Margaret Prince, 1916 Irwin street, Allegheny, Pennsylvania, is the first woman to be accepted for enlistment in the regular Women's Army Corps from this five county area.

She was given the oath of enlistment today, Friday, October 15, 1948, at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting main station room 400 Frew building, New Castle, Pennsylvania, by the commanding officer, Captain Charles E. Weddle.

Miss Prince is a veteran of the service, having enlisted in the WAC's at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania on August 13, 1945. After completion of basic training, she served as a clerk typist and was assigned to duty in the European theater until she received her discharge in 1947. She wears the World War II Victory medal and the Army of Occupation medal.

Russia Denies 5,000,000 Being Held In Slavery

PARIS, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Russia denied today charges that some five million persons are held in concentration and slave labor camps in the Soviet Union.

Soviet delegate Alexei Pavlov told the United Nations social, humanitarian, and cultural committee that such charges are "lies and fabrications."

British undersecretary of state for foreign affairs Christopher Mayhew made the charges yesterday, quoting eye witness stories of persons who had escaped the camps.

Father, Daughter Burn To Death

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—A father and his daughter were burned to death and two other children were badly injured today when fire swept a three-story South Boston house.

The dead were Edward J. Barrett, 35, father of seven children, and his daughter, Kathleen, 3½.

The fire was discovered by two boys who saw flames coming from the second story of the building.

Secretary Marshall Arrives In Athens

ATHENS, Oct. 16.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall arrived in Athens by air from Paris today to receive first-hand accounts on the civil war in Greece.

Reliable reports said that King Paul, who has been touring the Dodecanese islands, is returning speedily to his capital for conferences with the American official.

Warfare Again Grips Palestine; Fear Truce End

Report Egyptian Army Attack On Jewish Convoy Starts Hostilities

REPORT BIG FIRES AT GAZA AIRPORT

(BULLETIN)

TEL AVIV, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Israeli military spokesmen claimed major successes against the Egyptians today in a new flare-up of full-scale war in the Negev desert area of southern Palestine.

Heavy fighting that followed an Egyptian army attack on a Jewish convoy was marked by aerial combats.

By BENN FELLER
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

TEL AVIV, Oct. 16.—Full-scale warfare raged in Palestine today following an Egyptian army attack on a Jewish convoy.

At stake in the rapidly developing battle is control of the Negev area of southern Palestine, center of a three-way political dispute.

There was general fear that the fighting heralded an end to the truce ordered by the United Nations.

Israeli army planes unleashed bombing attacks on Gaza, seat of the Egyptian-sponsored Arab "government" for Palestine, and on Egyptian strongholds throughout the desert area.

More Fires Raging
Israeli pilots reported huge fires raging at the Gaza airport.

They said that the railroad from Gaza to Egypt, as well as Arab marshalling yards, also were bombed.

At the same time Egyptian planes bombed and strafed Israeli convoys and isolated settlements.

Ground forces of the Haganah were locked in battle with the Egyptian troops at many points. Tel Aviv reports said that "thousands" of Jews were fleeing.

More Indictments Faced By O'Malley

Former Chief Magistrate In Philadelphia To Go On Trial November 8

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Former Chief Magistrate John J. O'Malley today faced four more true bills of indictment, listing 120 counts of malfeasance and misfeasance in office.

The October grand jury returned the bills. Previously, the September grand jury had returned four bills against the dapper magistrate, who had waived indictment on still another charge.

In one bill, O'Malley was named as having participated in outside business while he was a magistrate, contrary to the provisions of the Magistrates' Tenure Act. (O'Malley allegedly was associated with the Carson Meat Packing Co.)

Another bill charged that in six cases, O'Malley discharged the defendants when the evidence did not warrant a discharge.

A third bill set forth 104 counts in which O'Malley allegedly continued to accept bribes while the fourth, involving 31 counts, charged him with fixing gambling and vice case defendants without jurisdiction.

O'Malley is slated to stand trial November 8 before specially-assigned Judge W. Russell Carr, of Uniontown.

I could sing a song of a football game, the blocking, the tackling, the line, or I could sing of the snappy bands who totted and army like time. Or I could sing of the painted woods with colors of weirdest hue, all these I could sing if I felt inclined, but I'll be darned if I do. I want to sing of the back yard lawn, on the days and the nights side past, and I want to sing of the morning job that was done on the long green grass. For this I think was the final trim. All the spring gone along its way and on I sing of the morning job, it's warm, crispness today.

Western Powers Prepare Reply On Berlin Blockade

U. N. Security Council Asks Facts On Soviet Blockade Of Berlin

By JOSEPH L. RANFT
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 16.—Western power representatives conferred today on answers to a security council request for details on the Berlin blockade.

Council discussions of the west's charge that Russia is endangering the peace were suspended yesterday until Tuesday when Chairman Jan A. Bramuglia of Argentina placed two questions before the big four.

Answers Asked
They were:
1. What was the exact method by which the Berlin blockade was imposed and what is its current status?

2. What was the exact nature of the four-power agreement of Aug. 30, which the military governors failed to implement?

The U. S., Britain and France agreed to supply Bramuglia with answers, but Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinskiy refused. The belief is that the western big three will prepare a joint reply. A western spokesman indicated that recent Soviet threats against the airlift—such as yesterday's artillery firing outside of Berlin—may be cited as proof of the Russians' use of force.

The British white paper on Berlin, it was learned, may be introduced in response to Bramuglia's queries.

A major speech there and return to the White House late that night. Twenty-four hours later the president will be underway again for a final week's windup of his campaign.

This election windup will see him making major appearances successively in Chicago, Cleveland, Boston, New York, Brooklyn, St. Louis and Kansas City.

The president will wind up his campaign on election eve with a 15-minute national broadcast speech from his home in Independence, Mo.

Yesterday, the chief executive stamped the state of Indiana, seeking his highly important 13 electoral votes. He spoke in a half dozen towns during the day.

WESTERN POWERS STAND ON ENERGY GETS UN SUPPORT

Four by the neutral powers, has resulted in mounting annoyance with the Russians.

The feeling in many circles is that on all crucial east-west issues—such as the atom and Berlin—the Soviets are finding themselves with less and less support.

With the Security Council adjourned until Tuesday, western delegates are spending the week-end drawing up answers to the two questions asked by Council Chairman Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina. They were:

1. What was the exact method by which the Berlin blockade was imposed and what is its present status?

2. What was the exact nature of the four-power Moscow agreement of August 30, and why was it not implemented?

The U. S., Britain and France have signified their willingness to answer Bramuglia, but Vishinskiy has rejected the queries. At yesterday's council meeting he reiterated the Russian stand that Berlin is outside of the UN's jurisdiction and solely a matter for the Big Four.

WARFARE AGAIN GRIPS PALESTINE; FEAR TRUCE END

sands" are already involved in the fighting.

The Negev, vast desert area of southern Palestine, was originally awarded the Jews under the United Nations partition plan. But the late Count Folke Bernadotte recommended that it be allotted to Trans-Jordan.

Claim Opposed
Egypt has opposed Trans-Jordan's claim and has sponsored an Arab regime with headquarters at the coastal city of Gaza. Other members of the Arab League have followed her lead, leaving Trans-Jordan virtually isolated in the Arab world.

The fighting began when a 10-truck Israeli convoy was attacked by the Egyptians near road junction in the Negev leading to some 30 scattered Jewish settlements.

The late Count Bernadotte had ordered the Egyptians to open the roads to Jewish convoys for six hours a day, but the Egyptians refused.

Our program last Monday was ideal—a current topic that brought forth diverse opinions, all in a friendly spirit. Why not give all grades a hour off on Friday to be devoted to religious instruction in the place of the student's choice and the time to be made up at the end of the year?

Our other favorite speaker, Cal Rose, will speak on the subject "From Amsterdam To Munich".

This will be a report of the world religious conference, concentration camps and the state of affairs in Europe. We know it will interest you.

of our country in the crisis of a war and accordingly I did not do so."

Dewey continued:

"Instead, I appointed a representative to work in the creation of the great new organization for peace in this world. Secretary Hull accepted his cooperation handsomely, and we succeeded in lifting the whole problem of the United Nations out of the partisanship of a political campaign."

Would Do It Again

"I'm glad that I did it and would do it again and in your next administration we will give our unstinted effort to the unity without hindrance."

The governor left St. Paul immediately after his address, swinging south to Indiana to meet Halleck.

Halleck, who delivered Indiana's delegation for Dewey early in the Republican convention proceedings, lost out to Gov. Earl Warren of California in the vice presidential race.

At St. Paul, the governor charged that the Truman administration was "injecting politics" into the nation's food production.

STUDY WAGE OFFER

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS)—CIO telephone union officials studied today a wage increase offer of six dollars a week for 33,000 long distance telephone workers in 41 states.

The long-lines department of the American Telephone & Telegraph company said that the offer is a "final" proposal. It was submitted as the 30-day period for wage discussions stipulated in the existing contract expired.

Universal First In Chest Return

"Once And For All" Solidation Brings $5,422.52 At Universal Sanitary

Employees of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company believe in speed and efficiency. And generally.

That goes for making vitrified china ware, or handling their civic responsibilities. The Community Chest being a civic responsibility of all of us, the Universal lads and lassies decided to get the job cleared and get on to something else.

Ray Caruthers, chairman of the Industrial Group of Community Chest and also vice president of Universal today announced that employees and management of the company had contributed $5422.52 under the "Once and For All Plan."

Cover All Charities

This "Once and For All Plan" might be called a package deal. Contributions are made once by the payroll method and out of these contributions come the help for the various charities. Out of the $5422.52 contributed, about 70 per cent will go to Community Chest. This means about $3795.76 for Community Chest.

The total was contributed as follows: Employees and officers, $2587.50. The company, $2850. This is the first report of the Community Chest campaign and considering the fact that the plant has some 400 employees, it shows a good per capita average.

When word of the announcement was made someone relayed the news to Peter Costello, president of UAW-CIO Local 69 of the Johnson Bronze company.

In a firm but gentle tone, with perhaps just a tinge of irony, Mr. Costello said today, "Sure that's a fine total and a fine per capita average. But you ain't heard nothing yet. We won't be making our report at Johnson Bronze company for a little while but when we do, we'll show them something about per capita averages."

J.B. people never liked second place in anything. Just wait, that's all, just wait!"

We're waiting Mr. Costello, with eagerness and anticipation.

However, Britain's W. G. Hall, and Ernest Gross of the U. S., championed Papanek against the eastern bloc. They argued that his "personal capacity" as an expert outweighed the geographical considerations.

A Mexican resolution calling on the big powers to resolve their disputes and work for a lasting peace was referred to the political committee without debate.

Following the vote on Papanek, the assembly adjourned.

HORNER-NELSON MORNING WEDDING

Miss Margaret Byers Horner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William W. Horner of 222 Fairfield avenue, became the bride of Dean R. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Nelson of Warren, Pa., at an impressive ceremony in the Trinity Episcopal church Friday morning, October 15, at 11:30 o'clock. Rev. Ralph Hovencamp officiated at the double ring ceremony before a gathering of immediate relatives. The bride, given by her father in marriage, was stunning in a white gabardine suit with a white halo hat and white accessories. She carried a white prayer book with white cymidium orchids. As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Horner wore a green suit, styled the same as the bride's and with it wore brown accessories and a lavender orchid corsage. Gayle Nelson served his brother as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents with a lovely luncheon served buffet style.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left in the late afternoon for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will reside in their newly furnished apartment in Leeper, Pa.

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of New Castle high school and attended Westminster college.

Mr. Nelson is a graduate of Warren, Pa., high school and in June of this year graduated from Westminster college with a B. A. degree. He was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and was a letterman in basketball throughout his four years as a student at Westminster. He is now teaching school and coaching basketball at Leeper, Pa.

CRAMER-ALLEY CEREMONY QUIET

Miss Norma Jean Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mayers, 231 North Scott street, and Jesse Earl Alley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Alley, of 21 Bluff street, were united in marriage Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at a single ring ceremony performed in the parsonage of Croton Methodist church with Rev. Owen Shields officiating.

The bride wore a gray wool suit with wine red accessories and a corsage of red roses and white baby mums.

Miss Violet Brenner as her only attendant wore a gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Samuel Doud served the groom as best man.

After the ceremony dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents to the immediate families.

Dispensing with a wedding trip, the couple have taken up residence in an apartment on Fulkerson street. Mrs. Alley is employed at The Castleton and Mr. Alley at the American Cyanamid Co. plant at Edensburg.

NEW WILMINGTON AUXILIARY MEETS

New Wilmington American Legion Auxiliary, Post No. 728, opened the Fall season with a dinner and installation of the new officers at the Grange Hall, New Wilmington, on Thursday evening.

A bountiful chicken dinner was served by the Grange at 6:00 to twenty members and two guests—Mrs. Dan Brown, Beaver, Pa., western director, and Mrs. Betty Horner, past 4-county council chaplain, of Beaver Falls, Pa.

The tables, beautifully decorated by the ladies of the Grange, were arranged to form a square and the space inside the square was completely filled with gorgeous Marigolds and gay colored leaves. At both ends of the table in a setting of red and gold zinnias and colored leaves were lighted candles of red, white and blue.

After the dinner the members were then seated in a circle around a blazing fireplace to enjoy the program and installation. After a short worship service, a program of original poems was read by Mrs. Walt Whitman, and a history of the work done during the past year was read by Mrs. Mae Aggas. Mrs. Brown then installed the following officers:

President, Mrs. Wm. Evans.
First Vice-President, Mrs. Galley Sharp.
Second Vice-President, Mrs. Harry Coulter.

Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Dunn.
Treasurer, Mrs. Troy Hill.
Chaplain, Mrs. R. F. Williams.
Historian, Mrs. Ben Elliott.
Sgt.-at-Arms, Mrs. Marie Fulman.

After the officers were installed, the new president, Mrs. Evans, took over the gavel and called a meeting for the regular night, October 25th at the high school.

FRIENDS GATHER TO HONOR CALIFORNIAN

At the home of J. F. Miller of Mt. Jackson, on Friday evening, a group of friends and relatives numbering 65, gathered for an "Open House" party, beginning at seven o'clock. The occasion was in honor of the former's brother, William T. Miller, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Reminiscing was the diversion of the evening. A delicious lunch was served by the former's daughter, Mrs. Elmer Shaffer, with daughters-in-law, Mrs. Julian Miller, Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. Robert Miller pouring.

The honored guest, who formerly resided here, is 84 years of age. He arrived here by plane from Los Angeles, October 9, to visit his sister and two brothers, Mrs. S. L. McCracken and Dwight Miller of Youngstown, and J. F. Miller, Mt. Jackson. It was Mr. Miller's first airplane ride, which he enjoyed.

Sixty-three years ago, the honored guest went to Los Angeles when the population of that city was 3,500, surrounded with a semi-arid plain. Mexicans and Indians comprised most of the population. Mr. Miller was an instructor for the Electric Railway Transportation Company, and retired from their service in 1932. His wife, and two children, Edwin and Mrs. Gladys Rosner, four grandchildren and two great grandchildren reside in Los Angeles. He expects to stay here for another week.

A guest book was signed by those at the party, and presented to Mr. Miller.

Section C Assembles

Section C met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. H. A. Anderson, East New Castle, when group singing around the piano with Mrs. Arthur Wehr as leader, and Mrs. Thomas McNicholas as accompanist was the main diversion.

Opening devotionals were in charge of the hostess. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Edna Rice and Mrs. Ella Palmer.

Next meeting will be November 11 in the home of Mrs. Harry Kelly, East New Castle.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Latsko entertained a group of their son's friends in their home, 107 South Jefferson street, on a recent evening in honor of their son Bernard's birthday.

Games were the pastime of the evening with prizes going to James Crow and Jacob Latsko. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Anna Crowe, at a table decorated in the fall motif.

The honored guest was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Hasta La Vista Club

Hasta La Vista club members completed plans for a theater party for Wednesday when they met on a recent evening in the home of Mrs. Betty Russo, 706 Pearson street.

Mrs. Peter Ambrose and Mrs. Louis Perrotta were special guests. The door prize went to Mrs. Victor Maciarello. Refreshments were served.

Next meeting will be October 27 in the home of Mrs. Victor Vincent of 710 Pearson street.

SIZE OF THE VOTE

There will be 95,000,000 Americans of voting age by November 2, Election Day, the Census Bureau estimates. It also estimates that 35,000,000 of them will not vote. This prediction seems likely to be borne out.

In 1944, according to the bureau, votes cast for President totaled 47,976,263. But that was only 56.4 per cent of the voting age population. So if the same proportion of Americans of voting age go to the polls this year, the number of ballots cast will be 53,580,000.

Of course, the ratio might equal that for 1940, when 49,490,000 citizens went to the polls, a percentage of 59.5 of the voting age population. In that case the total this year will be 56,525,000. After all, 1944 was a war year, and it is possible that this year will see a larger percentage of the populace at the polls than 1940. But it doesn't seem likely.

Why is it that at the most only three out of five citizens take a hand in choosing a President? Part of the answer is that some of those who are old enough to vote are ineligible. They are unable to satisfy residence requirements or they are confined in prison or mental hospitals. But all of these people, plus the inhabitants of the District of Columbia, do not add up to 35,000,000.

The plain fact is that, in every presidential election, neither the issues nor the candidates seem to have sufficient appeal to 40 per cent of the potential voters to cause them to go to the polls.

JUSTICE FOR REDS TOO

On Tuesday the conviction of Eugene Dennis, secretary general of the American Communist Party, for contempt of Congress was upheld by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

On the same day John Santo, international organizer for the Transport Workers Union, was ordered deported to his native Rumania for violation of the immigration laws.

Do these actions mean that the sentence of one year in jail and a $1000 fine, imposed upon Dennis by a Federal Court, will be promptly executed, and that the alien Santo will forthwith be shipped out of this country?

They do not. American justice gives them further reprieves. Dennis has already had a year of grace since his sentencing and now he will appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Santo can, and unquestionably will, fend off deportation for a further period by taking his case to the Department of Justice and thence through the U. S. District, Appeals and Supreme Courts.

These Reds are being denied no due process of law, and we would not want them to be, because that is the American way of seeing that justice is done.

We cannot help contrasting their treatment, however, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, with that which the nation they admire so much, Communist Russia, would give persons similarly accused.

What would happen to an alien illegally in Russia and active in an anti-Soviet organization? What would happen to a high officer in a party dedicated to the overthrow of Stalin's Government? We all know the answers. They would not, like Dennis and Santo, be given fair hearings in courts of justice. They would be purged.

A CALL FOR RESTRAINT

United States military authorities who are considering the possibility of war—as they should be—have stated lately that this country's air force plus the atomic bomb could beat any nation into submission in less than three months. They do not mention Soviet Russia in particular, but what other potential enemy can they have in mind?

Perhaps the laymen has no business entering into this discussion. Nevertheless the average American cannot be blamed if he does not fully share the military's optimism as reflected particularly by Air Force officers in articles in the Air University Quarterly Review.

He will remember how it was a few years before World War II. In those days he was informed, whenever Japanese-American relations became strained, as they often did, that the U. S. Navy could defeat Japan between dawn and daylight on any given day.

How wrong the brass was, events after Pearl Harbor amply demonstrated. Perhaps it would be wise to be a bit more restrained today. Such a course would not be open invitation to disappointment.

Mass production, it is alleged, would bring prices down. As in automobiles?

Tip to careless drivers: A gentleman always precedes his lady friend through the windshield.

Just wishing things would change is about like holding a match to the thermometer to make the room warmer.

In view of the general feeling throughout the world, it takes a lot of optimism to fix a date for the millennium.

Civilization has achieved the unusual position where war is suicide and peace at any price is proving too expensive.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's carefully-worded statement to the powerful National Union of Manufacturers that Britain has ceased to be an imperial nation aroused fresh speculation over an eventual United States of Europe today.

His speech, which was a joint attack on Soviet expansion and a defense of the British commonwealth as a balancing factor in the world was a policy statement of major importance.

Lacking some of the fireworks displayed when Bevin referred to the "black fury" that an atomic war would bring, the declaration was of vast importance because of the audience he addressed.

Britain could be the maker or breaker of a European federation. Her last official statement directly on the project was made by Prime Minister Attlee, who voiced cautious approval of the idea but emphasized that nothing could be done without full dominion consultation.

Study Proposals
Commonwealth prime ministers now are in London for their annual conference and the proposals for federation—many and diverse as they are—probably are being studied with utmost care behind closed doors.

Proponents of the United States of Europe, who incidentally include Winston Churchill, are stepping up their efforts to achieve at least a framework before another year is over.

They have made some progress. In Switzerland this summer, some 250 members of Parliament gathered from thirteen different European nations. They called their gathering the Provisional Parliament of the United States of Europe, and are meeting again this fall to draft a constitution.

They admit their problems are numerous but not insuperable although they have yet to draft a solid blueprint.

These are some of them:

Some of Problems
The disincorporation of Island Britain to commit herself to more than a military alliance with Western Europe in the knowledge that some time again the continent might be overrun.

The financial and economic aspects in a removal of tariff barriers and customs control, a seemingly necessary pre-requisite.

Age-old sectional jealousies and rivalries that no mere signatures on scraps of paper have been able to wipe out.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

"Shall I tell you in some tangible form my gratitude to the United States for post-war aid?"

A Milan weekly newspaper is conducting a poll among its readers and many of them want to send us some priceless painting by Michelangelo or Raphael.

Others think a Tintoretto—who rates somewhat lower than the other two in artistic and commercial value—would be enough.

But quite a few think that Italy has nothing to be grateful for and that the United States hasn't done any more than was her duty to a nation that had lost the war and was in need.

I don't think we care particularly whether we get a Michelangelo or a Raphael or a Tintoretto or nothing at all from Italy.

I don't think that we expect gratitude and particularly the kind of gratitude that practically amounts to so much payment for so much performance.

For so much you have done for us get a Raphael; for so much only a Tintoretto.

What we have done for Italy, what we are doing for the other nations is not done for pictures or for monuments.

We are peculiar people over here, and we wish that other nations could understand our peculiarities a little better.

We are unquestionably the greatest bunch of idealists in the whole world. And that is something most other nations and most other people don't seem to be able to understand.

There is no question that all this help for Europe and for Asia was conceived by our statesmen out of good hard common sense.

They realized that hunger causes riots and wars. They realized that prosperity creates trade, and trade is the life blood of nations.

But the Marshall Plan could never have been implemented if it had not been for the assent of Congress. That assent was overwhelming, because we, the people, were in overwhelming favor of giving help to the hungry and the needy.

And we the people did not think of trade and commerce when we said "Yes, give them help. We will pay more taxes and higher prices for our own things so that others may have something to eat and to wear."

When we said yes to the Marshall Plan, we were thinking of those others as human beings who were suffering.

We were thinking of what we had learned in our early youth, to do unto others as we would have them do unto us.

We were not thinking of Raphaels and Tintoretts.

But neither did we think that our motives would be so sadly misunderstood by those who did not want to, or could not, understand them.

We did not think that we would be called warmongers and imperialists and usurers.

I wish that those name-callers and agitators could see you and me in our homes, minding our own business, wanting nothing out of life but a little happiness for ourselves and the rest of us.

It's kind of funny to call you an imperialist, isn't it? (Copyright, 1948, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Dewey Contributes To Peace

ABOARD THE DEWEY CAMPAIGN TRAIN, Oct. 16.—In the long light of history the current political campaign may have a quite different look than it now has to us who are so close to it. Candidate Dewey's contemporaries—and this goes especially for the 70 newspaper critics traveling with him—are inclined to be irritated by his high-level appeal for unity, his failure to be specific on specific issues.

In particular on the core of foreign policy the Dewey managers resent the charge that they are too vague and too general. A well-known radio commentator delivered a rather sharp attack on Dewey's Salt Lake City foreign-policy speech. The commentator quoted vice-cracking Oscar Levant as saying he had always wondered how a man would sound who was saying nothing. And now, said the radio oracle, we know.

The commentator felt that Dewey should have specifically declared for the rearming by the United States of the armies of western Europe. Failure to do so, in his view, was evasive and cowardly.

Would Be Disastrous
But the Dewey managers make what seems to me a most important rebuttal. They point out, first, how perilously close is the margin between war and peace in the savage East-West contest. Dewey has said privately that he believes in two votes in the Politburo in Moscow stand in the way of immediate war.

This being so, says the skillful men in Car No. 2, who are fashioning Dewey's speeches, a clarion call for immediate rearmament by the candidate almost certain to be next president of the United States might well have a disastrous effect. It could convince the masters of the Soviet Union that there was no hope for any kind of settlement and that therefore war while the Russian armies have the pre-

The ducks are on the wing again. 'Twill soon be time for deer. The season comes when hunting men From home will disappear.

The lure of wood and field is great. As hunters' wives well know. The men will leave them home to wait. Since hunting they must go.

From Me To You

By MESERALL

Probably the largest crowd that ever attended a football game in New Castle turned out last night for the New Castle-Farrell struggle. It was a very well played game for the most part... good clean playing... a little anger showed up in the second half but nothing that was not human and understandable... Farrell was just a wee bit over confident... and when they missed a touchdown in the second quarter, their heart was broken... Losing the first game of the season is always a bit tough to take... But we will venture to say... the rest of the games Farrell will play this season will be classic ones... They definitely have a good ball club.

Hats off again to the colorful bands... Farrell has an excellent organization... snappy... military marching is their specialty and it pleases the folks in nothing like marching music to make a fellow get up and thank his maker that he is living in these United States... Our own band did very nicely in their presentation for the Community Chest... G-I-V-E was spelled out by the members and as an added attraction last night that versatile young lady named Russo twirled... she really is good... Then the real treat came... lights out, green lights on by the band members which were attached to caps... twirlers even spun green lights, and the band played that popular song "Four Leaf Clover"... very nice indeed.

It was a perfect night... good ball... good music... good crowd (official report shows over 14,000)... good weather... good fans... and for New Castle a good score... Everyone here happy we hope.

In closing this bit for today... let's remember that word spelled out by the band last night... G-I-V-E... to the Community Chest... there will be a report meeting of all "chest" divisions on Tuesday 12 noon... if everyone does his part... there should be something worthwhile to bolster our feelings... and we have a feeling that it will happen because lots and lots of people are talking about the "chest" this year and how much they think it should be supported.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1948, By The Baltimore Sun)

There Is One Big Difference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—It has been said of this campaign that there is really no big issue between the two parties. There are marked differences in the caliber and quality of the candidates, in their methods of campaigning and general outlook. There, of course, is room for criticism and attack but no great gap exists between them on vital public questions. Certainly, it is true in foreign policy and, despite conflicting views on the Taft-Hartley Act, measurably true in domestic affairs.

EXCEPT in one significant respect: This concerns the size, cost and efficiency of the Federal Government. Those who have followed the utterances of President Truman and Governor Dewey can hardly fail to note the acute contrast in their utterances on this important matter. For example, Mr. Dewey has dwelt upon it many times. Repeatedly he has promised the greatest "unsparing and untangling operation" ever heard of. He has pledged himself to shrink the great, swollen Federal bureaucracy, eliminate waste, reduce size and cut the costs. On the other hand, Mr. Truman, and those who oratorically and journalistically support him, completely ignore the whole business. Though it is impossible to deny that the Government is too big, too expensive and consequently too inefficient—no Democratic candidate, even lightly, touches upon these admitted facts. They do not deny them; they do not admit them; they just do not mention them. The reasons are clear, but it is absurd they should be able to get away with it.

IN the first place, the terrific increase of civilian Federal employes has all occurred in the last sixteen years of Democratic power. The total now is close to 2,300,000. This is more than twice the World War I peak. It is more than three and one half times the total at the end of 1932. It is more than twice the peak prior to the war emergency in 1939. In the civilian agencies the total is 85,000 more than at the World War II peak. The military establishment now employs three times as many civilians per uniformed man as at the World War II peak. More than 100,000 civilian employes were added in the year ended July 1. Since January, civilian jobholders have increased at the rate of 500 daily. By July 1, 1949, at this rate, there will be 2,300,000 civilians on the pay roll at a cost upward of $7,000,000,000. This compares with $29,000 at a cost of $1,850,000,000 in 1939. These figures come from Democratic Senator Byrd, who asserts that the present totals can be reduced 30 per cent without crippling any agency and at an annual saving of $2,000,000,000.

ALL of this appalling growth has come since 1933 and the vast bulk of the two million civilians on the pay roll are Democrats. That ex-claims Mr. Truman's utter lack of interest in reducing size and costs. It also explains the utter lack of interest upon the part of Democratic members of Congress—always excepting Senator Byrd. It also explains why the full weight of the Democratic White House was back of the powerful Federal employes lobby in frustrating the effort of the Republican Congress last session to cut and reduce. On the other hand, it certainly explains Governor Dewey's enthusiasm for cuts and reductions. It also explains why the Republican leaders generally support him in his pledges.

SUCH is politics in our country. In such matters one party is no better than the other. It is inevitable that the Republicans should be for pruning a Democratic pay roll and shrinking a Democratic bureaucracy. It is inevitable that the Democrats should resist. Nevertheless, reduction in size and costs has become so vital to the health of the nation that every intelligent citizen should be deeply concerned about it. Under the best conditions it is an exceedingly difficult thing to bring about. Actually, it is only possible when a party long entrenched in power goes out and the opposition with definite commitments comes in. This being so, obviously the only chance of reducing the Federal machine to manageable proportions is in the election of Governor Dewey and a Republican Congress. Even then it will not be easy. But, if Governor Dewey becomes President in January, he will have one great advantage in the fight he must make to keep his "unsparing and untangling" pledge. He will find in his lap and in the hands of Congress the report of the Commission of Reorganization of the Executive Departments appointed two years ago under a resolution sponsored by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and headed by Mr. Herbert Hoover.

THIS will be the most thorough, complete, nonpartisan study ever made on this subject. Its presentation should stir the American people out of their lethargy. Its recommendations for streamlining the Government will be supported by many of the leading men of the nation who have given without stint their time and energies to this job. Their work has been kept wholly free from politics. Undoubtedly, their plan will have great public and press support. Also, it will have violent opposition from the jobholders and the congressional sponsors. But it can be put through if the new President is determined to keep his word and a real supporting sentiment is aroused. However, if the plan fails, as so many plans have failed previously, no plan ever will go through. This is the last chance. If it is lost, bureaucratic expansion will continue until the whole swollen and unwholesome structure bogs down of its own weight and our vaunted American system is wrecked by our own inertia and incompetence. They Say

The World and the Mud Puddles

WASHINGTON — Harold L. Ickes, former secretary of the interior... "Gov. Dewey reminds me of the presidential candidate in the old musical comedy 'Of Thee I Sing' who swept the country on a platform of being for 'Love, Love Love'."

BELGRADE—Marshal Tito... "Our road is one. There is no slipping to the left or the right. No matter what happens justice is on our side and we will sacrifice neither justice nor truth."

LONDON—Dr. C. F. Garrett, archbishop of York... "The utter degradation of man, the loss of human rights and the trampling underfoot of all that is righteous and true, is an evil worse than war."

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey... "The Truman administration is coming apart at the seams... It is tired, confused, scolding and complaining."

May Also Have To Buy Potato Crop Of Canada This Year

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—The Agriculture department, with millions of dollars already invested in the potato price support program, was confronted today with the prospect of also buying Canada's surplus potatoes.

Canadian producers, who have an excess of about 15 million bushels over domestic needs, presumably could ship that amount to this country and under cut the U. S. support price.

It was estimated, for example, that including import duty and freight charges, potatoes from Canada can be sold at Boston about $1.00 cheaper than American-grown tubers.

Buy 44 Million Bushels
Through October 11, this government had bought more than 44 million bushels of the 1943 U. S. crop for surplus at a cost of about $2 million, 600 thousand dollars. Total purchases by the end of the marketing season are expected to reach 70 million bushels.

A portion of the government's investment will be recovered through resale of the potatoes for manufacture into livestock feed, potato flour for export and alcohol.

Under a reciprocal trade agreement, Canada can ship 2.5 million bushels of seed potatoes and 1.5 million bushels of table grade to this country during the year ending next September 15 at a tariff of 37.5 cents per hundred pounds. The tariff is double for any amount brought in above these quotas. But authorities point out that Canada can ship potatoes economically by water to points as far south as Charleston, S. C.

Three times the United States has resorted to conscription—in the Civil war, after war was declared in 1917, and before the country entered World War II.

Around Hollywood

By RUTH BRIGHAM
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 16.—Don't take a white-collar job if you have any ideas of becoming a movie star. That's the tested theory of Coleen Gray, a piquant picture star who should know what she is talking about.

Miss Gray thinks white-collar jobs have the most boring and stultifying jobs in the world. She thinks their work "dulls the keen edge of artistic temperament and contributes nothing to their equipment as entertainers". The quotes are here.

"What's more," she added, "white collar jobs actually lessen your value as an artist."

Coleen Rates High
Coleen currently is the foremost female of a 30th Century-Fox movie "Band", technicolor film of the Will James novel.

During her brief career she has starred with Victor Mature in "Kiss of Death", and with Tyrone Power in "Nightmare Alley". Before she dropped into the lead roles opposite guys of tap magnitude, Coleen prepared for her career the hard way. She said:

"Mostly I worked as a waitress. You may think waiting on table is a strange preparation for movie stardom. Actually it is one of the finest ways of getting to understand human nature I can think of. A girl who works as a secretary or filing clerk sees the same people every day. She handles pages of routine copy or columns of figures or is circumscribed by the repetitive English of the business letter. But the girl who waits on table opens the door on human nature in a way very few people can."

"After slogging hash, so to speak, I learned there are just two kinds of people—people with good manners and people without any manners."

"A waitress' life is full of novelty. She seldom has two days that run parallel. She can rest her tired feet at night with a fresh mind and enjoy reading books and plays or seeing a good movie."

"Next to waiting on tables I found mowing lawns a good job. I did this in the war years when manpower was scarce."

"Many girls are misled by a notion certain work is menial. There is no such thing as a menial job. Some of the work considered menial by girls who slave over hot typewriters until their brains are

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By Ernest G. Osburne

THE FAMILY WORKSHOP

A Junior Handrail...

Unless you live in a small city apartment, there are almost sure to be some flights of stairs that must be climbed—up to the porch, down to the basement or up to the second floor. Soon after they begin to walk, children find stairs a fascinating challenge. Although we do not want to deny them the privilege of successfully climbing the stairs, we do need to be as sure as possible that they will climb them safely.

If the handrail is out of reach or if there isn't a rail at all, you can improvise one that the youngster can reach and holding as he climbs, reach the top with little chance of accident.

The simplest method is to attach a fairly heavy rope—at least an inch in diameter—so that the youngster can grasp it easily without having to stretch. Another method is to fasten the rail he will use—wooden one like that for the grown-ups—to the uprights that hold the big rail, at a point handy for him. Such a junior hand rail can be fixed with little trouble and easily can be taken down later without leaving any evidence.

What They Say Of Chest Drive

REV. JAMES A. GAISSER

Pastor, First Methodist Church

The easiest, quickest, and surest way to care for the various agencies that are now being helped by the Community Chest is to have some government agency take over and pay the bill. This is the way a totalitarian state would do it. Some of us believe in democracy, and we are proud of the fact that the United States of America has given more generously than any other nation of the world. When you give to the Community Chest you subscribe to the American ideal of life. As a Christian, as an American, and as a citizen I believe in the Community Chest.

JAMES VESSELLA

Justice of the Peace

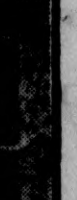

Our Community Chest, serving the thirteen Red Feather agencies, with its unity of purposes, serves all. In our generation this unity of purpose, GOING ABOUT DOING GOOD, should be cultivated into a high type of Community Spirit, which I pray, will spread through the communities of our beloved country and finally the whole world.

I fully endorse the Community Chest plan, and am justly confident that the people of our Community, with their enthusiasm and vigor that spurred success in many a campaign, will go over the top in this Community Chest drive.

Since the close of World War II we have had the opportunity to discuss home building plans with many families in the community.

Our experience indicates that in many instances financing arrangements have been left until the last, whereas much delay and at times disappointments could have been avoided if your lending institution had been consulted early in your program.

A large demand caused by the limitation on home building during the war has created a scarcity of labor and materials, consequently, high building costs which do not represent long term values. To protect home owners and bring their loan payments within their budget, home loans are made for a long term, some as long as twenty years.

Therefore, when long term loans are made in this high cost market, it is imperative that our appraisers and evaluator carefully screen all applications for loans on new building; and in order that as much confusion as possible be eliminated we are listing some of the steps essential in order to have a construction loan considered.

1. It is essential that your lot be well located, easily accessible to good roads and utilities. A home depreciates 50% as soon as completed if poorly located.
2. A survey and map of your lot is important.
3. Loan arrangements should be made, mortgage executed and recorded, before ground is broken or materials placed on site.
4. Our evaluator requires a detailed working set of plans, specifications and itemized cost sheet with all applications. If your loan is approved, our evaluator checks the progress of construction also—to see that plans and specifications are followed.
5. There should be a definite contract between you and your contractor, setting forth work included, terms of payment and completion date.
6. When your loan is approved and your mortgage signed and recorded, the FIRST FEDERAL sets up a loan in process account in your name and transfers the net proceeds of your loan to this account. You then deposit to this account the difference between this balance and the total amount of your contract price.—Payments are then made from this account at stated intervals as construction progresses, subject to inspections by our evaluator and your signed authorization.

The above requirements may seem cumbersome. However, experience has convinced our officers and directors that when followed they act as a protection to both you and the First Federal. We shall be glad to discuss your building problems with you at any time.

Annual Missionary Convention Will Close On Sunday

Missionary Platform Rally Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon; Mission Pledges To Be Taken

The annual missionary convention of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, which is one of the highlights of the church program during the year, will come to a conclusion with three services on Sunday in the church.

The missionary program which started last Sunday, October 10, brought to the church Rev. C. C. Ellenberger of French West Africa, Miss Agnes Brown of Ecuador, South America, and Rev. G. A. Aitchison of Funtabawar, Pa., assistant district superintendent of the Alliance for western Pennsylvania.

The services, which have been conducted nightly and each afternoon, have brought thrilling motion pictures of the work in South America and Africa. The program will continue this evening at 7:30 with an address by Rev. Ellenberger and Rev. Aitchison. On Sunday, Rev. Ellenberger will be heard during the Bible school hour at 9:30 a. m., Rev. Aitchison during the morning worship hour at 10:45, Rev. Ellenberger and Rev. Aitchison at 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The afternoon service will feature a platform rally, when various aspects of the mission work will be told. It will be concluded with the pledge offering during which funds received during the year will help carry on the foreign work of the Alliance. Last year the local church pledged $7,100 with over $8,000 having already come in through the treasurer.

First Methodists To Hear Timely Topic

In this day and age when such a responsibility has been placed upon America, what is the condition of the religious life of America? Rev. James A. Gaiser, pastor, will speak on the theme, "Religion in America" at the 11 o'clock service this Sunday morning at the First Methodist church. As citizens, and as church members this is a vital concern to all. Many nations of the world have failed because their religious life has failed. What are the conditions in America?

Evangelistic services which have been in progress the past two weeks at the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church, South Mill street, will come to a conclusion on Sunday with three services in the church.

Evangelist Henry Sproggins of Fort Worth, Tex., has been heard nightly in the campaign meetings. The service Sunday morning is at 11 o'clock. Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and Sunday evening. The final meeting at 7:30 o'clock. The service on Sunday afternoon is directed to youth and a special prize will be given to the church with the largest representation.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

President—became so indignant that he resigned as Senate floor leader, only to retreat a few days later and remain chief errand boy in the Upper House.

Asserted Independence

What Mr. Truman really means when he talks about the "worst" Congress is that the Eightieth session was disobedient. In other words, it asserted its independence. This was a radical change, and evidently beyond Mr. Truman's comprehension—although he had been a member of the Senate himself. The Eightieth Congress, elected in one of the biggest political turn-overs in many years, started out by offering the President its cooperation. Mr. Truman, having read the verdict of the voters, likewise pledged Congress his cooperation. But the Truman idea of cooperation took on what the country wise- acres used to call a "jug-handled" aspect; it was all one-sided. The result was, with Congress assuming its rightful responsibilities and asserting its rightful prerogatives, the President couldn't dictate in the Rooseveltian style which had prevailed since 1933.

Now the peculiar thing is that this "worst" Congress had a considerable number of Democrats in it. As a matter of fact, the Democrats joined with the Republicans in practically every bit of legislation which Mr. Truman has condemned. They also joined in rejecting legislation which Mr. Truman demanded. They went even farther than that; they joined in overriding the executive veto time after time.

As the situation stands today, there is no certainty that the Republicans will control the Upper House in the Next session; the Democrats, in fact, are now expressing confidence that they can wipe out the slender majority now held by the Republicans. Whether the Senate is Republican or Democratic, however, it is safe to say that the spirit of independence which suddenly asserted itself, after a decade and a half of docility and compliance, will not be abandoned. Congress and Executive were intended by the Constitution to be cooperative, but not to the point where the elected Representative of the people must be ruled by executive dictatorship.

hand then might be warranted, though it might be better to practice at controlling him between meals so that a mere "No" there would suffice.

Apparently you supposed 30 minutes a long time for him to cry while isolated. It was not. Three times that long should not have bothered you.

Don't let this youngster demand anything of you. While considering his real needs, you should ignore his whims.

He probably refuses something from one of your parents while demanding the other parent give it to him. Don't be his cowering slave. If he refuses something from Dad, see that he can't make you give it to him, or vice-versa. If he asks for butter and jam and then demands bread with butter only, let him choose the former or nothing. Once he has made a choice don't change your plans to suit his whimsical change of decision. Let other young parents take notice and act accordingly.

REV. H. L. JOHNSON ON PASTORS' HOUR

Rev. Harry L. Johnson, minister of Edenburg Methodist church, will conduct the New Castle Ministerial hour on W.K.S.T. Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Appropriate music will feature the service in addition to a sermon.

Conference At Wesleyan Church

A week end conference of the Wesleyan Methodist church will be conducted at the Lyndal street church, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. Edna Patterson.

Speaking at the church at the services which start tonight, will be Rev. H. C. VanWormer of Titusville, Pa., president of Allegheny conference of the church. Communion service will follow the preaching service Sunday morning by Rev. VanWormer.

Mrs. VanWormer, a gifted flautist and pianist, will be present during the services and will give demonstrations.

Center U.P. To Have Illustrated Theme

Center U. P. congregation will have the first sermon in a series of ten, dealing with "The Commandments, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The sermon will be illustrated. Several solos by Mrs. C. Coraman will feature the Gospel Hymn Sing period of the service.

Evangelism is being stressed at Center church during the month of October. Interest is increasing in the Bible reading course of the young peoples' meetings on Sunday evening. Questions to be discussed October 17, will consist of two each from Chapters 8 to 15 of St. Matthew.

Refuse Payment Of Pension Fees

Controller Will Not Pay
Premiums For Employees
Not Now In Service

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Pension premiums for county employees, either elected or appointed, who have left the service, will not be paid by the county controller.

This position was made plain Friday morning when a conference was held between the commissioners, the controller, their attorneys, the representative of the insurance company handling the pension plan.

The conference came about when County Controller Andrew M. Dodds asked for clarification of the contract for the coming year. Cal Rasey, representing the insurance company, said the contract bound the county to pay pension premiums for employees for eight years after they had left the service.

To this Attorney Ralph Cooper, counsel for the controller, said, "In my opinion this is not legal. Certainly the county should not be bound to pay premiums for eight years after an employee has left the county service. While this is a matter for the commissioners, I can say that vouchers for such payments will not be passed by the controller's office."

The premium payment is due before January 15. It was decided that notices will be sent to 10 persons, formerly in the county service, notifying them the county will not pay their premiums and placing the responsibility for the payment upon the individuals.

If the persons so affected believe the county is liable for the payment of the premiums, they can ask for a declaratory judgment. Either that or the insurance company can ask for a declaratory judgment.

The pension plan was put into effect in December 1947. At that time the question of liability for payment of premium for eight years after service was raised unofficially but the question remained unsettled.

It is now an issue that must be solved before January 15, 1949. As the matter stands now Controller Dodds and his counsel are adamant in their position that no voucher for payment of premiums for any person outside the county employ will be approved.

CLAIM VIOLATION

A suit has been entered in the Federal court in Pittsburgh charging the W. J. Ayers Statutory Co. of New Castle with violation of a sales agreement.

The suit is filed by James L. Gerd Inc. of Buffalo, N. Y., a distributor of piggy banks. It claims the Ayers company violated a sales boundary contract between the two and that some $100,000 "illegal" sales were made in the disputed territory.

The action also complains that the Ayers company promoted sales in northeastern and midwestern states by "colorful painting and decoration of the banks." It also claims the Ayers company has a patented device used in the piggy banks which permits removal of the money without breaking the banks.

SET OUT FLOWER BULBS DURING EARLY AUTUMN

Early fall is a good time to plant hyacinths, narcissi and tulips. The soil should be well-drained and improved by working in well-rotted leaves, rotted stable manure, commercial peat moss and sand. Each grouping of bulbs needs individual holes.

Tulips should be planted 4 to 5 inches deep, hyacinths 6 to 7 inches, snowdrops and crocuses 2 to 3 inches and lilies 7 or more inches.

The depth of planting is determined largely by the type of soil. In sandy soil plant them fairly deep and not so deep in heavy, clayey soil.

When planting bulbs a pound of bone meal can be used to each 25 square feet. Commercial fertilizer, such as 5-10-5 or 4-12-4, can be used at the same rate. The fertilizer should be thoroughly mixed with the soil. If the soil needs lime, apply about 2 pounds of ground limestone and mix it well with the soil. Always plant the bulbs right side up.

Can Cook Dinner For 500 Men in Just One Hour

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Here's one for the ladies:

The Navy has found a way to cook a dinner for 500 men in just one hour. It's simple. Use radar.

This was disclosed by the Navy today in reporting that it had been experimenting on how to put more wow into its chow.

The Navy said extensive research is being done on radar cooking which is a new principle. War development tubes are placed in an oven and countless energy waves penetrate the food in a matter of seconds.

By striking the many food molecules the waves start a violent vibration between the molecules which develops heat and cooks the food.

A swordfish exceeding 400 pounds and believed the largest ever caught off Long Island, was displayed recently in Freeport.

Redoubt is an active volcano (11,270 feet high) on the west shore of Cook inlet, Alaska. Its last activity was in 1905.

It also has discovered in the experiments conducted at the Supply Corps School, Bayonne, N. J.:

1. Premixing of foods, such as cakes, muffins and hot bread mixes, have passed rigid tests for economy, storage and simplicity of preparation.

2. It is possible that in the near future many meals, already prepared, may be loaded aboard ships or planes. The Navy says after heating, these meals are found to be as tasty as normally cooked food.

The bureau of mines in the United States Department of the Interior, was set up in 1910.

Ward Reports Of Fall Presbyterian
Stereopticon Slide Shows,
With Narrators

Members of the M.E.G. auxiliary of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, were the guests of Mrs. J. T. Miller of 510 North Cedar street, on Thursday evening. Miss Ethel Scheidenmantle led in devotional exercises. Mrs. Wade Daugherty presided.

Reports were given on progress of new projects. The following nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. Evan Campbell, Mrs. E. A. Gibson, Mrs. J. T. Miller. Brief reports were given of Fall Presbyterian at Princeton by Mrs. Daugherty and Mrs. E. O. Farver; Mrs. H. M. Patrick of Bernardsville, N. Y., of National Union Board, was main speaker, on work of the missionary board in the south land.

Mrs. Daugherty showed stereopticon slides of "The Tale of Topsy," Mrs. J. T. Miller, narrator; "The Desert and the Rose," by Mrs. Herman Alexander, which was much enjoyed.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, and associate hostesses Mrs. G. W. Senheiser and Mrs. John Martin.

Next regular meeting will be in the form of a tureen dinner, with Mrs. Wade Daugherty and Mrs. Harold Fisher as hostesses. A joint meeting with the Opportunity Circle is scheduled for Thursday evening, October 21, at the church, when Miss Sarah McKee, recently returned after 3 years in Egypt, Sudan and Palestine, representing the Foreign Board of Missions, will show pictures and give a lecture. Hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Frew, Mrs. Lew Wettich, Mrs. Arthur Morris, Mrs. L. M. Wilkinson and the executive committee of M.E.G. Mrs. Herman Alexander, chairlady.

Girl Scouts No. 30 Invest New Members

At the North Beaver high school, members of Girl Scouts Troop No. 30, assembled on Thursday evening. Mrs. Thomas Martin, leader, was in charge of the opening exercises.

The girls were instructed in folk dancing by Mrs. Anita Scott. Jean Andrews, Elizabeth Bell, Florence Brown, Elizabeth McKim, Donna Morris were invested into the troop, by co-leader, Mrs. Margaret Hammond.

The investiture and flag ceremony was in charge of Mardell Johnson. Meeting closed with the Friendship Circle and singing of "Taps."

Low Operating Cost Of Chest Is Pointed Out

One of the lowest operating costs in the country makes the local Community Chest a bargain in service to the people, according to Paul G. Dingley, president. "Out of every dollar contributed," he said, "only 5.3 cents goes for administration expenses. The cost for conducting the campaign takes only 3.2 cents. This unusually low cost is made possible only because the 300 workers give of their time and energy without any cost to the Chest. Even the dinner given to the volunteers at the opening kick-off meeting was the gift of a long-time friend of the Chest—the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company. These low costs are actually negligible when compared with the costs in both time and money if we were required to conduct separate campaigns for each of the thirteen agencies united with the Chest.

Croton Union
Mrs. C. F. VanHorn, 410 Butz street, was hostess to the Croton W. C. T. U. at her home on October 12 with Mrs. J. Hinkson as co-hostess. Seventeen members were in attendance. Mrs. Fred Beck, president, presided, with Mrs. Carl McCreary leading the devotions.

Mrs. Owen Shields had charge of the lesson using as her topic, "Peace and Prohibition," stressing particularly on peace. Announcement was made of the county institute which will take place at the First Baptist church October 21. A workshop will be held at the First Baptist church November 9.

The November meeting will be roll call and will take place at the Croton Methodist church in the form of a tureen dinner with honorary members as special guests. Rev. Owen Shields will lead. A social hour closed the meeting with delicious refreshments served by the hostesses and their aides.

State Surplus Is Predicted

Surplus For First Biennium For Gov. Duff May Reach $50,000,000

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—(INS)—State fiscal officials are freely predicting a $50,000,000 surplus for the first biennium of Governor Duff. As of May 31, this year, the commonwealth had accumulated $23,500,000 more in taxes than had been estimated and a larger amount is expected to pile up in the current fiscal year. As of September 30, the surplus has mounted to $33,000,000 for the first 16 months of the Duff administration. The surplus will be the deciding factor in the tax program of the January legislature. A $50,000,000 surplus is expected to cover increased costs of government in the next biennium without additional taxes aside from requirements of the State Highways department. A two-cent increase in gasoline taxes, despite some opposition, is regarded as a foregone conclusion. The $50,000,000 yield is needed for construction, the department reports.

Big question now is whether the Duff administration, in view of the surplus, can again postpone tax exemptions promised manufacturers two years ago. Best information is that Duff will attempt to enact a new base for taxing corporations using either income or capital but not both as at present. This type of corporate levy is in vogue in many states. In its recent call for lowered state taxes on business, the State Chamber of Commerce indicated that it would be agreeable to the new type of taxation in lieu of the present double levy. Where Duff and business representatives will most likely fall out is over the yield the new tax will bring in. Duff is reliably reported holding out for a yield equal to that now paid by business. Any reduction of corporate taxes, he argues, must shift the tax burden to individuals. Such a tax will come soon enough, his associates say, upon the passage of the $500,000,000 veterans' bonus constitutional amendment.

Frank C. Hilton, of Womelsdorf, chairman of the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania, celebrated his 40th birthday October 12. The organization's by-laws place a 39-year age limit on its officers. Hilton has been chairman since 1937. The Young Republicans became inactive during the war and held only two executive committee meetings since 1941.

Republicans are confident that a pro-Dewey tide will sweep all GOP candidates into office November 2. There are a number of hot local fights, they admit, but the outcome will be all right because "this is a Republican year."

Gen. Don Juan Pizarro, public works minister for Argentina, is visiting Pennsylvania to inspect the Pennsylvania Turnpike and river transportation methods. He was welcomed to the state by Lt. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler, Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews and Secretary of Forests and Waters Milo F. Drumm. Pizarro will observe river shipbuilding, dredging and towing operations to Dravo corporation similar to the "push-towing" system inaugurated in Argentina's inland waterways.

Neighborhood House September Report

Winter Work Started At South Side Institution By Leaders And Helpers

The work of the Neighborhood House which has headquarters in Christ Methodist church, South Mill street, is being carried on in earnest with the starting of the fall and winter seasons. In the September report just submitted by Misses Christine and Jean Butler, welfare workers, the intensified activity is reflected. During the period, 65 calls were made in the homes of the area by the workers. The sewing classes are conducted each Monday after school, with children sewing Bible mottoes. The young peoples study group meets each Monday evening, but will meet twice weekly, later. Loyal Temperance Legion started its work learning a temperance poem. Home evangelism class meets each Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Marco Corlano to study important events in life of Christ. The group is using color pictures for hand work. The J.A.C. club is working on a book, "Days I Remember."

Homes of 15 of the members of the club who planted Harmony Margolds were visited with the flowers judged. Mary Grace Pandolfi won the prize for having the best bed. Evangelism classes are scheduled to get under way soon. In the Sunday school, in charge of Kenneth Lutz, superintendent, the attendance is increasing. Twenty Sunday paper booklets have been presented to cradle roll members.

Donors for the month were: Miss Laura Bell, Mrs. Clarence Fischer, Rotary Ann; Grace Bible church, Miss Eva Lightner, Mrs. E. L. Young, Miss Alice Young, Mrs. Burr Rogers and W.S.C.S. of First Methodist church.

Gideons To Have Week-End Meeting

The New Castle Camp of the Gideons, working with Mercer County Gideons will have a field day Sunday in the Sharon area with Gideon men speaking in some 22 Mercer County churches. The week end meet will open this evening at 8:30 o'clock with a banquet in the Oakland Avenue Methodist church in Sharon.

Rev. Henry Spraggins of Port Worth, Texas, former U. S. Army chaplain will be the main speaker at the banquet this evening, speaking on "Value of Gideons to Servicemen." Assisting in the program will be J. D. Williams, state Gideon president; Rudolph Nelson, Zone Leader at Roy Grove, chaplain, the latter two of Bradford, Robert Chappell, New Castle camp president is on the program of arrangements.

R. W. CLASS MEETS

The R. W. Class of the Grace Bible church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Leroy Knight, Schenley avenue.

The president, Mrs. Charles Sanford, led the devotions. Mrs. George Flasi closed the period with prayer. Games and chat were the chief diversion with prizes going to Mrs. Burnside, Mrs. Karki and Mrs. Craig. A special feature was the packing of a box to be sent to a former member Mrs. Helen Ketzal who is now at Bob Jones College in North Carolina where Mr. Ketzal is preparing for the ministry.

The hostess aided by Mrs. Fred Fell served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Mrs. Charles Sanford as hostess.

AT SUNDAY SERVICE

The Sunday evening service of the Grace Bible church will be in charge of Melvin Foiding and his Gospel team.

Mr. Polling in Sunday school superintendent of the City Rescue Mission. Services begin at 7:45.

EAST NEW CASTLE NOTES

Mrs. Ben Gardner who has been ill is able to be about.

Mrs. Josephine Shaffer is recovering from a fall down the cellar stairs.

Mrs. Henry Booher who is confined to the Jameson Memorial Hospital is said to be doing nicely.

The H. J. Houck family enjoyed sweet potato for several days from one sweet potato. The vegetable weighing 6 1/2 lbs. was one of several brought from South Carolina by Hugh Miller a fellow worker of Mr. Houck's. Mr. Houck also picked a cup full of strawberries from a patch in his back yard Wednesday morning.

Sets Date For Trial Of Patterson Will Case At Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Federal Judge James W. Morris today set the date for a jury trial in the dispute over the will of the late Eleanor Patterson by late November or early December.

Mrs. Patterson was publisher of the Washington Times-Herald.

Judge Morris set a tentative trial date of November 4 in the will contest brought by Mrs. Patterson's daughter, Countess Faller Gixky, but indicated that proceedings could not actually get under way for some time after that.

At the same time, the judge said that the issue to be put before the jury was whether the whole Patterson will was valid or invalid.

He overruled an effort by proponents of the will to have the jury decide whether any separate bequests might be invalid.

The will bequeathed the Times-Herald, Mrs. Patterson's largest property, to seven of its executives.

There are 500 fires in hospitals and institutions each year in the United States.

Feast Of Sukkos At Temple Israel

Joyful Festival For Jewry Starts Sunday Evening, October 17, At Sundown

The festival of Sukkos or Tabernacles is the most joyful in the Jewish calendar. It begins at sundown Sunday, October 17, and is observed for seven days by Reform Jews. Eight days are observed by Orthodox and Conservative Jews. The Hebrew date is the 15th of Tishri 5709.

Sukkos services at Temple Israel synagogue will be conducted Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Iwan J. Gruen will be in charge of services, and his sermon is entitled "Heavenly Joy In Earthly Booths." The Sukkos ceremony will follow.

Monday morning services will be held at 10:30 o'clock.

The history of this festival dates back to Biblical times, and is associated with the time of the Exodus in the Books of Exodus, Leviticus and Deuteronomy. It symbolizes the wanderings of the Israelites in the wilderness. It is also an ancient agricultural harvest festival that has given the deep spiritual meaning of Thanksgiving by religious teachers over the ages.

The wind causes the waves in the ocean. Waves are ripples like the small ones caused by a breeze across a pond, but on a larger scale.

Services are held in synagogues the first and last days of this festival. Little children are dedicated in the religious schools and introduced to the beauties and mysteries of formal worship. Praise and thanksgiving dominate the entire holiday period.

The founding fathers of America dedicated a day of thanksgiving to God for His bounty and goodness. They gathered inspiration for thanksgiving from the Old Testament. Especially in this materialistic age, it is good to pause and remember the Creator of all goodness, the Master of all men, and thus return to the basic principles of religion, of faith, and trust in God.

How Much Is $109,000, Measured In Service?

Your Community Chest campaign is now on. The total asked for is $109,000 to be divided among 13 service agencies of the city.

Measured as money, $109,000 is no inconsiderable sum. Measured in need, and in the answers to need, it becomes far less important.

These 13 agencies are serving all of us by serving the needy. Hospitals, Henry Home, Scouts, YM, YWCA, Rescue Mission, these and the others are doing the job for us. Naturally it takes money to finance them.

This is our job, let's do it with a will. A little from a lot will do the job quickly. This is our city. This is one of the duties we owe it.

CELEBRATING SILVER ANNIVERSARY

"I plan to have an informal open house to celebrate the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of my husband. I should like advice as to what to serve and some simple decorations. The house will be from 7 to 10:30. What of invitations? When, after guests arrive should we serve refreshments. I expect to have a large number of guests."

Answer: Serve a buffet supper, arranging your table and items as follows:

Selection of plates and groups of cups, saucers and necessary silver should be attractively arranged on the table, which should be decorated with a floral centerpiece with candles flanking the flowers. A big feature of your table decorations should be a bridal cake. Your coffee service, as well as dishes of sandwiches or rolls, cold cuts and cheese should be set on the table before the arrival of your guests. Hot foods, if any, should not be served until the festivities are about to begin. Guests will help themselves, unless you have servants to wait on them.

Have everything arranged before your guests arrive so that you may have continuous service and that your guests may leave when they wish after at least a half hour's stay. Invite your friends by visiting card invitation or by writing short notes.

After your guests have arrived and have had time to greet "the bride and groom" have a member of the family or a friend who is assisting escort them to the dining room where the buffet table is set. At an informal service, guests help themselves to refreshments with the help of someone—a friend or a member of the family stationed in the dining room for this purpose. Two of your best friends should pour—one at each end of the table.

Guests at a large open house usually come and leave in groups. They do not usually stay for the entire period.

Present your problems to Miss Merkel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

TWO BUTLER MEN WILL BUY NIXON

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 16.—Two Butler men will acquire the Hotel Nixon and assume control November 1. It was reliably learned Friday.

Judge William B. Purvis approved the action of the trustees of the Nixon hotel estate in refusing to accept the property at its appraised value of $250,000. The court's action cleared the way for the acquisition of the property by other interests.

C. Stewart Shoemaker, insurance man, and Lloyd I. Wistert, contractor, are forming a corporation to be known as Nixon Hotels Incorporated.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 16.—(INS)—Virgil Banks, 44, Altoona Negro, was held today in the Huntingdon jail charged with the knife slaying of his wife Charlotte, 44, Wednesday night.

Coroner E. Blair Sherr said an inquest will be held Monday at the court house. The murder charge was filed by Police Chief William Smucker.

Banks was taken into custody at Harrisburg early Thursday; he had eight stab wounds in the region of his heart but claimed he had not attempted suicide.

School Bands Perform Well At Grid Game

New Castle Band Gives Boost To Community
Chest Campaign

Butterflies are a lovely sight over a meadow on a June morning. But butterflies have no place in a press box and certainly not in the stomachs of people who get paid for writing pieces for newspapers. But there they were, coveys of them, flocks of them, and it took a couple of high school bands to chase them out Friday night at Taggart stadium. For, truth to tell, in those first two periods of what will always be remembered as a grade A plus football game, the butterflies were doing nip-ups in our dining room. Of course that third period had the soothing effect of a Brahms Lullaby, but at the end of the first half the press box looked like a cage full of neurotics. After all a 6-0 lead is nothing to draw a sight draft on.

Bands Put Out
The half time period with the New Castle and Farrell bands performing was the prescription we needed. The Community Chest got a nod from New Castle's band and the word "GIVE" was spelled out in 60-foot human letters. It probably was the best letter formation of the year. Then to practice what they were preaching the band decided to "give" and did so in a style to which we like to be accustomed.

"There's A Tree In The Meadow" was the marching number and "I'm Looking Over A Four Leaf Clover" was the lights out number. The arrangement for this number was done by James Maxwell, a trombonist and a promising musician. There was a little touch of sentiment to the number the fans knew nothing of. Jim's mother has been an invalid for 20 years but Friday night she was brought to the field to see and hear her son's clever work. The Trombone quintet doing the feature work of the number was composed of James Maxwell, John Stoffick, Harvey Groden, William Fazzone and Richard Burr.

Twirlers Good
The twirlers seemed to catch the spirit of the evening and tossed their batons around with the greatest of ease. Little Veronica Russo, the band mascot and a twirler in her own right, did a solo number that had the fans applauding. Farrell has a crack band also. This is a military marching band and made a showing that stamps it as one of the best in these parts. Director Francis Pat has a well rounded band and Friday night it showed to advantage.

That seems to be about everything from the musical side, save the cheer leaders. These young ladies have been out on the field night after night, gyrating and pirouetting in an effort to steam up the cheering. Friday night they were really "up" and here's an orchid to them. One to each.

You can spell the capital of Cuba either Habana (Spanish) or Havana (English).

Movie Actress Recovering

Actress Rita Johnson shown at the home of a friend in Newport, Calif., today after her release from a Los Angeles hospital where she has been confined since September 6. Miss Johnson, believed to have been struck on the head by a falling electric hair dryer in her Hollywood apartment on September 6, plans an extended rest before returning to pictures.

Barber Shoppers To Draw Throng

Fifteen Hundred Seats Reserved
At Noon For Musical Melange Tonight

Those old time barber shop melodies are still popular.

Prof of this is seen in the reservations for tonight's Charter Night program of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America. At noon there were 1500 seats reserved for the goings on in the Cathedral and the door sale tonight will increase it.

The local Chapter No. 500 will be given its charter, the Sharon club doing the honors. There will be barber shop quartets from many cities, including choruses from New Castle and Sharon.

'Mississippi Swim' Contest At YMCA

New Castle YMCA is one of five "Y's" in the state participating in the 11th annual international "Down the Mississippi" swimming contest that begins Monday, October 18, and continued through Saturday, Oct. 30.

This is an inter-association contest with stress placed on the number of participants rather than the distance covered. The contest is conducted annually in cooperation with the national YMCA aquatic program. It has attracted entrants from Hawaii, Nova Scotia and the Canal Zone but no contestant travels farther than his own YMCA pool.

LEAGUE MAY BE ORGANIZED
For the purpose of organizing a Voter's League and electing permanent officers there will be a meeting of those interested in the Second Baptist church Sunday afternoon, October 17, at 2:30 o'clock.

Charles Brandon has been acting temporary chairman and Miss Doris Ward, temporary secretary, to make plans for the meeting.

In Danish, Copenhagen means "merchants haven."

Foresee Battle In C.I.O. Meeting

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Preliminary skirmishes of a wide open fight between the left and right wings of the CIO started today in Washington.
The fight probably will develop at the CIO executive board meeting in Portland, Ore., Nov. 17, and the organization's convention in the same city the following week.

The current row developed when CIO President Philip Murray rejected a protest against investigation of the left-wing New York City CIO council.

The first successful dirigible was built in 1852. A three-horse power steam engine moved it along at six miles an hour.

St. Mary's Has Music Program

Students of St. Mary's school presented an American music program on Friday in the Catholic Center. Included were selections by the orchestra, St. Mary's girls chorus, piano solos and folk dances.

The program opened with a number of selections by the chorus and entire school singing, followed by orchestra numbers. The girls chorus pleased the audience with their singing. The dances of the boys and girls were very intriguing and showed much training and hard work on the part of their teachers.

Marie and Patricia Cresswell very effectively participated in dance numbers. Rose Marie Palmer was heard in piano selections as was Harry Marshall and David Smith. Robert Hart and James Lombardo pleased with selections also. A selected group of numbers by the Junior high students pleased the spectators. David Vago announced for the program.

For a quick dessert fry bananas in a fritter batter and serve sprinkled with confectioner's sugar, cinnamon and with a dab of sweetened whipped cream.

DULLES REACHES VIENNA
VIENNA, Oct. 16.—(INS)—John Foster Dulles arrived in Vienna today to confer with U. S. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes and civilian occupation officials.

The Republican advisor to Gen. Thomas E. Dewey was met at the airport by his sister, Mrs. Eleanor Dulles, who is an attaché at the American legation in Vienna.

The earliest known bird is believed to be a peculiar creature called an archaopteryx which lived 120,000,000 years ago.

Trailers That Are Built For the Extra Hard Jobs

When you buy a trailer you are buying it for the toughest job you have. Any trailer will do the easy jobs. It takes quality and roadability to do the hard jobs.

American Supercargo Bantams and Kingham Trailers are built for the hardest job, plus. They are still in good condition when ordinary trailers are decorating a junk yard.

Poolone Crashes Over For Tally In Third Period

New Castle's all-powerful "Red Hurricane" football team, rocked the Class AA WPIAL grid world with a resounding blast 33 to 0 over a heretofore unbeaten and untied Farrell High eleven last night at the stadium, as a record breaking crowd of close to 14,000 sat enthralled in the stands.

Pictured is Ralph Paelone scoring the fourth New Castle TD in the third period last night. Paelone dove head first over the pileup. Players discernable in the picture are—left to right—(14) DeVito, Farrell; (32) Piccirilli, New Castle; (42) Tate, New Castle; (60) Mangino, New Castle; (26) Kennerly, (49) Macchitani, Farrell and on the extreme right, (52) Smith, New Castle.

Community Chest

Question No. 5

Why Do We Have A Community Chest?

We need not look further than the recent statements of the presidents of our major labor organizations.

William Green, President, A. F. of L.

The Community Chest is performing a very valuable work and is doing a sound American job through a combination of fund-raising efforts of many important voluntary health, welfare and recreational services into a single federated drive. The Community Chests have established a technique of intelligent education on a year-round basis in the development of a program of support to Red Feather services. The membership of organized labor has been most favorable impressed by this plan. It is a most significant and a highly important fact that representatives of labor, management and professions have been called upon in most cities and towns to serve on budget and campaign committees, as well as on Boards of Directors of local Community Chests and Red Feather services.

This is a most convincing and concrete example of democracy in action.

I am pleased to add my personal approval to the official endorsement of the American Federation of Labor for the Community Chest campaigns in 1948. I hope and trust your program will receive proper and generous support from all Americans.

Philip Murray, President, CIO

We of the CIO feel strongly about health and welfare needs of our home communities. As industrial workers, we well understand the vital nature of the health, family and child welfare, legal aid and other services which Community Chest Red Feather agencies can provide. It is the policy of our organization, representing 6,000,000 American working men and women of all races, faiths and creeds, to give our fullest support to the financing and planning of such federated health and welfare services as represented by Community Chests. We feel that labor and management can and must unite on an equal and democratic basis in this area of mutual responsibility for the welfare of the community as a whole.

I am urging the unions, and through them the members, of the Congress of Industrial Organization to participate actively in their local Community Chest campaigns and to give generously not only of their dollars, but of their time as board and committee members on a year-round basis.

It is a real pleasure to add my personal and official endorsement to your 1948 campaign for Community Chest funds.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

TANKS

During the war we heard a lot about tanks.

We get our gas from tanks. Our oil is pumped from tanks.

The milk business has grown so much that milk is stored and transported in mammoth tanks.

When Lincoln was president many families kept a cow and supplied milk to the neighbors. The milkman delivered milk to only a few customers.

Nowadays one dairy may supply milk to a whole city.

Milk is perhaps our most valuable food. Milk and bread are twins. They are not much alike but they pair up pretty well.

Although milk is so valuable, great care must be taken to keep it sanitary.

Pasteurization is almost universal nowadays. It is our safest way.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast.

W. S. C. S.

W. S. C. S. of White Chapel church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Black, Wednesday. Twenty-four members were present to hear their special guest, Miss Anna Kohler, a returned missionary from Alaska. She gave a very interesting talk on her work. Mrs. Kohler is a house guest of Mrs. Scott Guy.
